

Tips

Radio Public Service Announcement Samples

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
(insert date)

For more information contact:
(insert your name, phone number, and E-mail address)

FATAL ATTRACTION: POTIONS AND PILLS NATIONAL POISON PREVENTION WEEK, (Insert date)

(:10)

_____ (insert organization name) reminds you that poisonings can be prevented by storing your poisonous products in their original containers, in locked cabinets out of the reach and sight of your children. For more information and a free guide on poison proofing your home, call ____ (insert organization name and phone number) or visit the Georgia Poison Center's website at www.georgiapoisoncenter.org.

(:10)

March _____ (insert date) is National Poison Prevention Week. _____ (insert organization name) and the Georgia Poison Center remind you to store your poisons safely, use your poisons safely, and know what to do in a Poison emergency. To learn more about preventing poisoning, contact ____ (insert organization name and phone number) or visit the Georgia Poison Center's website at www.georgiapoisoncenter.org.

(:30)

According to the Georgia Poison Center, over 70,000 people are poisoned each year in our state. Over 45% percent of these poisonings involve children. The Georgia Poison Center reminds you to keep all potential poisons, such as household and laundry cleaners, medicine and vitamins, cosmetics, automotive products, and gardening products stored in locked cabinets out of the reach and sight of your children. For more information and a free guide on poison proofing your home call the Georgia Poison Center Education Department at (404) 616-9235 or visit the Georgia Poison Center's website at www.georgiapoisoncenter.org.

(:45)

FATAL ATTRACTION: Potion and Pills. In observance of this year's National Poison Prevention Week, the Georgia Poison Center reminds you that some medications are extremely dangerous if ingested by children. Keep all medicine and vitamins in child resistant containers and store them in locked cabinets out of the reach and sight of your children and pets. After each use, be sure that you re-cap the medicine bottle tightly and put it back in a locked cabinet. For more information and a free guide on poison proofing your home call the Georgia Poison Center Education Department at (404) 616-9235 or visit the Georgia Poison Center's website at www.georgiapoisoncenter.org

